*"I cannot do all the good that the world needs.
But the world needs all the good I can do."- Jana Stanfield*

Dear Friends;

As many of you know, Advent House has been our community's two bed home for the dying since 1991. So many hands & so many hearts enable this caregiving ministry to continue at Advent House where the compassionate volunteers and staff serve as the loving hands of service for our residents and their families. In their time of greatest need, we are privileged to be at the bedside providing physical care, emotional support and comfort. Letters from grateful families, who were helped through this time of transition by a soothing word, a gentle touch, or an understanding smile from our caregivers, validate the importance of this Home.

Over the years, our volunteer caregivers and staff have had the privilege of caring for nearly five hundred residents and their families. We continue daily to answer calls and serve as a resource to family members and friends who are faced with caring for a terminally ill person at home. Each story is different but the common thread is the need for care and emotional support in a peaceful, homelike environment. Finances are no longer a concern for them since there is no charge or insurance reimbursement for the care received here at the House.

While the love and devotion of our caregivers sustains the heart and soul of Advent House, it is the financial donations we receive that enable us to maintain our service to the terminally ill. As we begin this Holiday season, we ask you to open your hearts to the needs of others in our community and consider making a generous gift this year. Every gift is welcome and appreciated because your financial support enables us to ensure our mission continues as we help those who can no longer help themselves.*

Please write your name or the name of your loved one on the enclosed Heart ornament and return with your gift. It will hang at the Advent House throughout the Holiday season, honoring the memory of your loved ones. It is a heartfelt reminder what this Season is all about. Thank you for your thoughtful donation to Advent House. Your generosity enables us to maintain this beautiful home for the dying. Truly, this care-giving ministry cannot continue without your financial support.

May you be blessed with love, hope and joy.

*Peace,
Glenda Hastings
